

Great British Chefs – Paid Editorial Internship

Are you looking to get some food writing experience under your belt? We have an opening for a three-month internship on the editorial desk at Great British Chefs.

Great British Chefs is the fastest growing food website in the UK and has become the go-to destination for foodies in search of recipes, cooking guides and features on everything that's happening in the world of food and drink. We're looking for a budding food writer who wants to get some experience writing articles in our office based in Angel, London.

You'll be working as part of Great British Chefs' content team, ensuring that the features we put out are of the highest quality. That might mean writing copy for our recipe collections, transcribing chef interviews, putting together articles featuring seasonal dishes or helping to plan upcoming editorial campaigns around the latest food trends.

PLEASE NOTE: this is a three-month paid internship focused on food writing, not recipe development. A number of our previous interns have gone on to secure digital marketing, PR, content and social media roles both within Great British Chefs and externally.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Assisting the features editor with the day-to-day running of the site
- Researching and writing features about all aspects of food
- Assisting with transcribing and proofreading across all departments
- Generating ideas with the editorial team for new content
- Writing copy for landing pages, recipe collections and chef and restaurant profiles

REQUIREMENTS

- A near-obsessive passion for food (this is a must!)
- An ability to write engaging, authoritative copy quickly and efficiently
- Pinpoint accuracy when it comes to grammar and fact-checking
- A friendly, outgoing manner with bags of enthusiasm
- Previous experience of working with a CMS and writing for the web is an advantage

Interested? Please email info@greatbritishchefs.com with a cover note, CV and previous examples of your writing.
